

CURRICULUM VITAE – Jörg Frauenfeld

Braking down the theory of efficient construction management into real tasks, provide ongoing expert advice during the implementation and execution to successfully deliver sustainable construction projects.

Jörg Frauenfeld was born 1973 in Heidelberg, Germany. Since 2010 he delivers first class Project Management Services and Real Estate Advice through his consultancy firm Sàrl Inspiring RealEstate (based in the French Riviera Region).

Jörg graduated from the Hochschule Karlsruhe Technik und Wirtschaft with an Engineering Diploma (Dipl. Ing. FH) in Construction Management in 1998.

His love for rugby and construction took him to the Riviera the same year. Employed as a construction manager at EIFFAGE (former Rossi / Quillery) he realised various residential developments along the Mediterranean coast and attached great importance on building a strong network along the French Riviera. Soon he was selected to form part of the “top jeune” group of Quillery – young professionals to become leaders in their fields.

He decided to leave the French south coast for an MSc in international construction management that led him to the Nottingham Trent University (UK), the Waterford Institute of Technology (Ireland) and l'École Supérieure d'Ingénieur de Chambéry (France).

Graduating with honours in 2001 he discovered the wide range of management services in real estate. As a project manager at GLEEDS Management Services in London he led a mixed use 5-star hotel / residential project in Canary Wharf and represented corporate and public clients as their employer's agent in a wide range of property developments.

In 2005 his journey continued to Germany, where Jörg acted as a senior development manager at HSH Real Estate AG. Jörg represented the company, which is involved as equity partner in real estate projects, in all development aspects, from design, planning and construction to finance and transactions. Closing several SPVs successfully in 2007, Jörg became head of the development unit of HSH Real Estate AG in 2008.

During a parental sabbatical in 2009 he was able to spend two months with his wife and two sons on an island in the Mediterranean and became aware of the need to move away from corporate life! His affection for the South of France and ambition to do business on an individual level led him to founding “Inspiring RealEstate”.
